Conserve, save, relax. The Viron filter is everything you need to enjoy your pool or spa - kind to the environment, perfect for your lifestyle.

Viron is a product of today's thinking and global challenges.

This affordable filter uses state-of-the-art materials for outstanding reliability and performance. Crystal clear water is guaranteed. Viron's filtration system is finer than a sand filter, without the high price tag of some other cartridge filters.

Such purity is effortless with Viron. Installing and maintaining your Viron filter is so simple, almost anyone in the family can do it. Once-a-year cleaning is all that's required for most residential pools.

Viron was conceived and developed over many years from the realisation that water is precious. Made for Australian conditions, Viron doesn't need regular flushing like sand filters, which means you save the equivalent of 37 hours of shower time in water each year.

What makes Viron different

The Viron advantage is clear. And the secret is ingenious design and uncompromising local manufacturing.

Local design makes filtration choice crystal clear

Not only are the Viron C400 and C600 less expensive to buy than ever before, but a lower resistance means you can select a smaller pump to achieve the same flow rate. Combined with the once a year cleaning process Viron cuts power consumption and save you money every day.

The Viron C series of cartridge filters uses four state-of-the-art Reemay filter elements - one of the world's best filters. The Reemay will provide years of superfine filtration, as it filters the finest particles without embedding them in the elements.

This means Viron cartridges clean the water and themselves more thoroughly than most other cartridges.

Supporting water conservation

Designed in Australia, the Viron saves between 8,000 and 20,000 litres of precious water each year.

Viron's secret lies in its easy maintenance. Conventional sand filters, which are back flushed as often as once a month, use about 1000 litres of water every time - 8000 litres each year. Instead, Viron is simply hosed down or soaked once a year.

Save time on installation and maintenance

The four elements incorporated into the design of the Viron C400 and C600 have an enormous capacity, so they only require once-a-year cleaning. The cleaning process has been made easy too - simply remove the injection-moulded casing and follow the instructions to clean and replace the cartridges.

An inbuilt automatic air bleed system also reduces the manual air bleeding process to simplify your routine maintenance program.

The 50mm water connections glue in for faster installation and allow Viron to handle high flow rates. Less plumbing and no backwash line, the Viron series is easier and cheaper to install.

Reliable construction

The Viron C400 and C600 are made from quality components. The injection moulded design is made up of non-corrosive materials and provides ready access to all elements.

We've taken no chances. Viron copes easily with high spa temperatures and while the maximum operating pressure is just 250kpa, each unit is tested to 700kpa.

Fully injection moulded body and components means each unit is manufactured to high tolerances, increasing the life and reducing ongoing maintenance. Even the European made oil filled pressure gauge has been selected for its long life and reliability.

The range

The Viron C series of cartridge filters is available for 38m<sup>2</sup> or 57m<sup>2</sup> filter areas, making them suitable for any pool or commercial spa.

Warranty

Each filter is covered by a limited five-year warranty on the tank and 12 months on the other components.
